COIN COLLECTING

Coin Collecting or Numismatics opens to the inquiring mind a branch of study, embracing a much wider field than any of the other Sister Sciences. It is one of the most intellectual pursuits of the day and develops a taste for Art, stimulates research in History, Geography and nearly every branch of learning. It is a very fascinating and instructive pastime innovating in us habits of order, and has proved to be quite a source of profit as fully emphasized by many who have collected in the past, as the values of the average choice quality coins or rare coins increase from year to year, thus becoming an excellent investment.

Coins are often the only historical records that we have of some nation or states that have long passed away, and which would have been buried in oblivion but for the coins which bear the names and portraits of the rulers, and record events relating to their history. It is not the age of the coin that makes it valuable but the amount that were struck, and the condition of the coin, and the demand for it. It is possible to obtain an ancient Greek or Roman coin anywhere from 20c up, yet recent issues will bring a very handsome premium. This may be exemplified by such recent issue as the 1894 "S" mint dime of which only a few were struck. This coin is worth $1,000.00 or more.

This catalog was carefully compiled after a long research by the following methods. First, the auction sale is a good barometer of the present day value of coins. We conduct twelve sales each year, and naturally are in a position to keep posted with the ever changing values. There are also the auction sales of other dealers, plus price lists which we carefully analyze and in this manner determine a fair price for a coin. The prices quoted in this book are a fair average price which a collector can pay to a dealer. Of course there are instances where a collector will pay less than the price quoted or he may be forced to pay more. That may be due to several reasons. First, the demand for the coin, and the amount that will be available. Also every once in a while a coin that was considered scarce, a large quantity will be found, and these will be thrown on the market thus causing a reduction in price

It is also our suggestion to the collector to beware of the so-called "Real Bargains," for one must look out for counterfeit coins and also coins which the dates have been altered. Most common of these spurious coins will be the 1856 Flying Eagle, 1853 Half Dollar without the rays or arrows, and the 1804 silver dollar. In other words, if a coin is worth $1,000.00, and you are being offered this for $50.00, there evidently must be something wrong.

The state of preservation of a coin is also an important factor in establishing the price A coin that the date is barely legible would bring a small price, wherein a coin of the same date but struck in proof condition will bring a large price.

It is also interesting for the collector to know that it is not always the date but very often the mint which a coin was struck in that will determine the value. An example may best be made by the $5.00 gold piece dated 1887. The one without a mintmark struck in Philadelphia is a coin worth several hundred dollars, while a coin of the same year but struck at the San Francisco mint will only be worth $10.00.

It is also wise to note that coins should never be cleaned unless you make inquiry from an expert for very often good coins will be ruined by lack of knowledge of scientific cleaning.

This catalog is furnished as a guide, and more or less the prices which we will sell these coins when in stock. Prices are subject to change.

This publication is furnished as a guide, and lists more or less the prices which we will sell these coins when in stock. It is not to be deemed an offer by us to purchase any of the coins listed, although we are always in the market to buy, and will be pleased to submit an offer on your entire collection or any coins you may desire to sell.

DESCRIPTION OF CONDITIONS OF COINS

PROOF COINS. Coins that were specially struck for collectors by the Mint having a mirrorlike surface. This is done only by the die, and the planchet being highly polished.

UNCIRCULATED COINS. Coins made for general circulation but have never been used, usually referred to as mint state, or new.

EXTREMELY FINE COINS. Coins which are struck usually for circulation but have the faintest sign of wear, the wearing very often referred to as cabinet friction.

VERY FINE COINS. Coins having been in circulation but showing slight signs of wear, however, every feature and detail is very sharp.

FINE COINS. Coins of regular issue having had wear but still every feature sharp, even though the high points have been worn down.

GOOD COINS. Coins that all features are visible, also the date but as a rule much worn.

FAIR COINS. Coins which one may distinguish as being the coin of that particular issue but reading hardly legible.

NUMISMATIC TERMS

COINS are pieces of metal designed for circulation as money. They are usually struck from dies, and bear an impressed device.

MEDALS are metal pieces struck from dies, usually to commemorate some person, place, or event, but not intended for use as money.

TOKENS are generally struck in copper, imitating the size of a current coin of the time and country, and issued by a private individual or firm.

OBVERSE means the head or face of the coin; the side having the principal device and generally the date.

REVERSE means the tail or back of the coin the less important side.

FLOWING HAIR denotes the hair flowing loosely at the back of the head.

LIBERTY CAP denotes a bust supporting a pole, on which is mounted a cap of liberty.

FILLET HEAD denotes the hair tied in a knot at the back of the head.

TURBAN HEAD denotes a head surmounted by a turban inscribed "LIBERTY".

FIELD. The blank space forming a background for the design of the coin.

TYPE. The principal device or object represented on a coin.

LEGEND means the reading on the coin.

THE INSCRIPTION means all names, legend titles, etc., on the coin or medal. It is a general term.

LETTERED EDGE. Coins with inscription around edge.

MILLED EDGE. Prior to 1836, the one half dollars were coined with the lettered edge; later with milled or reeded edge as they are today.

DIES. A thick die sometimes has lettering on the edge of the coin; a thin die has none.

EXERGUE. The lower portion of the area of a coin beneath the type and separated from the rest of the field by a horizontal line.

SYMBOLS. Small objects or ornaments represented either in the field or the exergue as adjuncts to the main type.

INCUSE. That portion of a coin which is sunk below the surface.

FIRST REGULAR COINAGE denotes the first year a coin was issued for circulation.

PATTERNS are experimental coins struck off by the mint which are not put into circulation, the designs being prepared by direction of Congress, whose Committee accept or reject the new devices. Rejected designs are very rare and much in demand.

VARIETIES means when two coins of same value and period vary slightly, as in size of letters, date, etc.

RE-STRIKES are coins struck from the original dies, but at a later period than date on coin.

OVER-DATE. When a die made in one year is used at a later date by re-engraving one figure over another, the pieces struck therefrom are said to be "over dates." For instance, the same die from which the ½ cents of 1800 were struck was used in 1802 by sinking a 2 over the 0, and portions of the later figure are plainly visible.

PROOFS are coins struck from a specially polished die, using a planchet polished to a mirror brightness.

MINT MARKS consist of small letters, generally on the Rev. of the coin to designate the place of mintage, Lincoln Head cents & liberty standing quarters are on the obverse.

ENCASED POSTAGE STAMPS

Note: During the Civil War there was a shortage of small change and a jeweler by the name of J. Gault conceived the idea of placing a postage stamp within a metal case covered with mica. Many business firms saw the advertising advantage and had issued them. These were accepted as money by most all business houses.

UNITED STATES PATTERN, TRIAL AND EXPERIMENTAL PIECES

The following list of Pattern Coins with their rarity numbers was compiled from the works of the famous conjoined collectors Adams and Woodin.

We have tried to be careful in placing a value on these pieces using the records of auction sales and price lists from various dealers throughout the country. We then made an average which we think is very fair. Where we have inserted the words "No Record" that does not necessarily mean that the coin is of extreme rarity. Our only thought in mentioning "No Record" was to eliminate any prices which may have taken place 20, 30 or even 50 years back for we have tried to keep the values of the pieces at their present day estimate.

While we have endeavored to abide by the Adams, Woodin list of rarity numbers, we have found that in some cases there were more pieces struck than originally listed. However, these cases are few and far between, and the collector has more or less to guide himself by the following table of rarity:

Unique	R 15
2 to 3	R 14
4 to 5	R 13
6 to 8	R 12
9 to 12	R 11
13 to 15	R 10
16 to 20	R 9
21 to 25	R 8
26 to 35	R 7
36 to 50	R 6
51 to 75	R 5
76 to 100	R 4
101 to 300	R 3
301 to 500	R 2
501 upward	R 1

Note: We have for sale the reprinted edition of the Adams, Woodin Book fully illustrated, linen covers $3.00.

A VIEW OF OUR SALESROOM

Our salesroom is probably visited by more collectors than any other "Coin Shop" in America. The visitor finds himself in a comfortable atmosphere from the moment he sets his foot into our door until ready to leave, (conceded by collectors to be the finest coin shop in America).

You will be able to see the largest display of Coins and Medals of the World. Among the collections you will have an opportunity to view the odd and curious shaped coins used in the Far East; also many interesting coins from the Ancient World up to the present day. Our collection of the thousand different medals and decorations are also on display.

Visitors are always welcome to use our library and we might add that we have capable specialists in all fields to assist you in attributing any coins. It may interest you to know that three men on our staff have been associated with leading museums of Europe. We are pleased to advise the collecting world that if any problems arise due to not understanding certain foreign languages, our staff is capable of reading and writing ten different languages.

Not only do collectors enjoy buying from us but they also enjoy selling to us for it has always been our motto, "Fair Dealing." This is possibly the reason that we buy from an average of 100 to 200 collectors each week.

May we extend to you an invitation to visit our store when coming to New York. You will always receive a cordial reception.
